

True Inclusion Is Childs Play

Presented by

Kerry Allan-Zinner

Another Angle Consulting and Training

copyright

www.anotherangle.com.au

Kerry Allan-Zinner

- Becoming Successfully Disabled!

- At the end of this presentation I will invite you to ask questions.

copyright

Spontaneous Learning

- Accessible play spaces enable children with disabilities to participate and be included in spontaneous games.
- If a child with a disability can be in the space the likelihood of inclusion increases.

copyright

- Why is another child going to engage and offer help when an adult is standing so close?

copyright

It's not just about wheelchairs!

Down Syndrome

Spina Bifida

Autism

Cerebral Palsy

Acquired Brain Injury

Intellectual

Vision Impaired and Blind

Deaf and Hard of Hearing

Multiple and Complex Needs

And please don't forget that parents with disabilities need access to playgrounds too!

copyright

Inclusion

● Step 1. 😊 😊

GETTING IN!

● Step 2. 😊 😊

STAYING IN!

copyright

The playground is where we learned important skills and lessons

Communication

Negotiation

Considering points of view of others

Valued status

Romance

Rejection

Worldliness

Patience

Disappointment

Considering how others live

Considering our impact on others

Creating Fantasy and Dreams

Living Happily Ever After

copyright

Creating Accessible Playgrounds Supports my vision for a community that understands:

“People with disabilities aren’t different.
Life for people with disabilities is different.”

copyright